Mum in a hurry

‘Got to rush. Will you be OK?’

As usual, Tim’s mum was in a hurry. She had so much to do, and so little time. She gathered up her car keys, her house keys, her phone, her bag, her books.

‘Mum, slow down!’ said Tim.

‘See you at 4 pm,’ said Mum. ‘I’ll meet you at the fitness centre. Don’t forget. We’re going over to see Auntie Ruby and Uncle Frank at the new house.’

‘Mum, you need a holiday.’

‘Yes, I do, darling,’ said Mum, ‘but not today. Remember to switch off the lights and lock the door. Love you. Bye.’ And she was gone. She was like a whirlwind.

Tim finished his bowl of cornflakes and thought how his mum was really the best mum in the world. She worked so hard. She took care of him, she had a job, she was studying for a degree, and she looked after Uncle Frank. She should actually get an award: the Best Mum of the Year Award. Yes, she should get an award, a cheque for a large amount of money, and a wonderful holiday. A holiday where?
