A man lived in a small village in Ireland.
The man's name was Lusmore.
Lusmore is the Irish word for a flower.
Lusmore always had this flower in his hat,
so people called him Lusmore.
Lusmore had a big hump on his back.
People didn't like Lusmore's hump.
They said bad things about it, and Lusmore was sad. The people were wrong, because Lusmore was a good man.
